AITM SCHOOL OF HOTEL MANAGEMENT

AITM School of Hotel Management (AITM-SHM) offers the Bachelor in International Hotel and Tourism Management (BHM), an internationally recognized and accredited Swiss hotel and hospitality management degree program of International Management Institute (IMI), Luzern, Switzerland. IMI is ranked 17th out of 20 top hospitality and leisure management schools in the world by QS in its most recent world university rankings. The BHM program is conducted in AITM-SHM, which has one of the best facilities in the country. AITM-SHM was the recipient of the "Second Best Hospitality/Tourism College Nepal-2014" by Business Age magazine in 2014. AITM premises in Khumaltar, Lalitpur, offer a breath-taking view of the three cities of Kathmandu Valley and the Himalayas. AITM provides an environment where students are challenged intellectually and are encouraged to pursue their professional needs and to utilize their potential to the fullest.

AITM-SHM has outstanding faculty and is equipped with state-of-the-art facilities. Our faculty members do not just train the students, but go out of their way to give them the best education so as to transform them into tomorrow's leaders of the Hospitality industry. The college provides the students the knowledge, the cutting edge skills and the attitude to cope with the emerging demands of the hotel industry. Our students are trained to turn challenges into opportunities. They are imparted good interpersonal skills, persuasiveness, and positive attitude. Our education is holistic and is a balanced combination of theory and practice to enable students to choose from a number of career options.

Research based study is our fundamental priority. The objective is to personalize our students' experiences and broaden their cognitive skills so that they are able to analyze and interpret. Our curriculum is further strengthened and streamlined through close bonds that we maintain with industry leaders. Our students' learning is enriched in the field through real-world projects conducted in association with industry professionals. School of Hotel Management frequently calls industry experts for guest lectures, assessments and job interviews. We are delighted when we hear from the hotels that our students are able to please their valuable customers in terms of both productivity as well as efficient and effective services. Our graduates are working in various top five star hotels in the world and a number of them are operating their own outlets in Nepal and abroad.

AITM, along with Little Angels' College and Xavier Academy, two reputed institutions with proven track record in academic excellence, are members of Nepal Education Foundation-Consortium of Colleges, Nepal (NEF-CCN), which aims to establish a national university.
